HAWAII DELIGHTS SENATOR WILSON

Minneapolis Man Tells Of His Stay In Islands

Senator George P. Wilson, former attorney general, returned yesterday from a winter vacation trip to Honolulu, says the Minneapolis Journal of April 24. He was accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, and they also spent considerable time in California. They have been away since November.

"Honolulu is one of the most interesting cities in the world, I think, though it has only 45,000 to 50,000 people," said Senator Wilson. "It is the cross-roads of the Pacific, and its inhabitants form a bewildering admixture of races. The pure-blooded Hawaiians are fast disappearing, but the half-bloods are a fine-looking class of people. The mixture is largely Chinese. Many do not have the slanting eye of the Chinese, and are very handsome. There are a good many Portuguese half-bloods also.

"Like Minnesota, the islands of Hawaii seem to have been fortunate in their early white settlers. They were a very superior class of men, beginning with the early missionaries. Their descendants are men of a very fine type, many of them graduates of Yale and Harvard. Many of them have been in the army and navy.

Thousands Greet Portugal's Cruiser

Warship On Round The World Tour Arrives From Coast

The fleet of launches loaded with cheering Portuguese followed behind the San Gabriel and her way into the harbor of Honolulu was marked by band music and other outward forms of welcome. The sight of the fatherland flag was sufficient to warrant a more or less continuous expression of joy from the Portuguese.

The San Gabriel is a vessel of 1908 tons displacement. She is a cruiser of the third class and this is her first cruise around the world. The San Gabriel was built in 1898 at Havre, France, and for a number of years she has been at the Portuguese East African ports and also on the Indian station.

The vessel carries an armament of fourteen guns. These belched forth a salute as the cruiser halted at the naval wharf. The vessel is propelled by engines capable of developing 3000 horse power and a speed of 17 knots per hour. During the present cruise the vessel has been averaging ten knots per hour. The voyage is to be an extended one and speed is entirely a minor consideration.

STRENUOUS HUNT FOR NEGRO GRACE

Sheriff And Chief Out Searching For Murderer

While not denying that it is possible that Anderson Grace got away for Formosa on the Japanese liner that sailed for the Orient on the same day as the negro broke away from the prison gang, the police authorities do not think it likely that the escaped murderer has left the country.

"Some of the plain clothes men are always around any steamer that is in port," said an official this morning, "and as the escape of Grace was known at the police station half an hour after the getaway, there is not much chance of his having boarded the boat. All the waterfront specialists and other officials know Grace by sight, and it is very unlikely that the negro got away from Oahu."

Last night Sheriff Jarrett and Chief McDuffie went out on a search that was prompted by a clue that reached the police station. The whole detective force was also out, and after surrounding a block of tenement houses, a thorough search was made of the place. No signs of Grace were, however, discovered, and the officers then went out on another hunt for the much-wanted man.

The Grace proposition is different to any other escape matter that has ever attracted attention in Hawaii. All other escapees were captured through information given by people from whom the coyness had obtained food or clothing. Grace, as far as is known, has not been seen by anyone who would give him away, and unless he has a supply of food sufficient for months, he must have some friends to whom the reward of $500 does not appeal.

Women are supposed to be the slaves of fashion, but it's a mistake. Men are the real slaves, inasmuch as they have to pay the freight.

BIG PROFIT MADE BY AUTO SELLER

Sam Pupuhi Committed On Charge Of Cheat

Most of the time at the police court this morning was taken up with the alleged gross cheat case of Sam Pupuhi, who was charged with having buncoed S. W. Kamohaili out of the sum of $450. The case arose through the sale of an automobile, that was valued by the von Hamm-Young people at $900, to the complainant by the defendant, who received $1250 for the car. The defendant handed over only $900 to the von Hamm-Young people, and the complainant, finding this out, claimed that Pupuhi had cheated him out of the difference.

Charles F. Chillingworth, prosecuted, and Clem K. Quinn defended. A bill of sale was introduced as evidence, and a receipt for $700, signed by Pupuhi and acknowledging the sale of a car on behalf of the von Hamm-Young Company, was also produced. The balance of $650 was paid at a different time, and there was no denial of the fact that the car was sold by Pupuhi for $1250.

Quinn advanced the argument that if a man has a horse for sale at $150, and a friend disposes of the animal for $175, and keeps the $25 for himself, after handing the $150 to the former owner of the horse, there could be no kick coming from anybody.

Judge Andrade, after listening to the evidence, committed the accused for trial to the Circuit Court, providing that the grand jury find a true bill.

"When I looked over my mail," said one young author, "there was nothing in it excepting bills or rejected manuscripts." "I know," replied the other; "it's always either something due or nothing doing."

TARN M'GREW WEDS MISS GRAMP IN LONDON

John Tarn McGrew, son of Dr. and Mrs. McGrew, was married on April 7 in London to Miss Isabelle Scott Gramp.

This pleasant news was contained in letters received by the mail of yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. McGrew will make a short tour of the continent and return to Paris the latter part of this month, where they will make their permanent home.

Mrs. McGrew (nee Gramp) is an acquaintance of Mrs. W. G. Irwin, and has made her home in London and Paris.

YES OR NO, WAS FINE REMITTED?

Governor Frear Fails To Make Specific Answer

While discussing the proposed amendment to the coastwise shipping law at the office of Governor Frear this morning, a copy of the amendment having been received in yesterday's mail, the chief executive was asked if he had his coastwise fine remitted yet.

"Well, last January I paid four hundred dollars for myself and my daughter to land here coming from San Francisco on a steamer which did not fly the flag of the United States," he replied.

"Now, Governor, there has been considerable talk about that fine of yours. Was it remitted from Washington?"

"Well, I have never announced that it was," he replied.

"But, wasn't it remitted recently? This question is of interest to people in the territory."

"There has been no announcement made by me that it was remitted," the Governor reiterated. "Anyway, one of the papers stated a short time ago that it had not been."

"Well, hasn't it been, then," the reporter asked.

"Now, I haven't said that it had not been remitted either," quoth the Governor, and there the matter rested.

RUSSIANS HAVE LEFT QUANTINE

They Are In the Hands Of Immigration Inspectors

Two hundred and fifty Russians who arrived here on Friday by the Pacific Mail liner Mongolia have been released from detention at Quarantine Island.

The Russians and their effects were loaded upon the steam barge Pioneer at noon today and transported to the Channel wharf.

The newly arrived immigrants were escorted to the immigration station, and there will be obliged to undergo a close examination before being turned loose upon their own resources.

It required the greater part of Monday for the staff of officers connected with the local customs to complete an examination of the baggage and personal effects of the Russians.

Three Russians included in the Mongolia party were found to have all symptoms of chicken pox and they have been detained at the station.

It will require several days to complete the investigation by the immigration authorities. The Russians will be housed and fed at the station during that time.

The representatives of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association will have an opportunity to tender offers of employment after the immigration

Woolley Tries To Unite Support

Split With Conservatives Now Widening To Alarm Of Special Agent

The decided differences of opinion as to the proper method to be adopted in going before the people in the plebiscite campaign is disturbing the councils of the prohibitionists in a manner that has kept Agent Woolley busy in trying to arrange for a united front to the opposition. The councils of the prohibitionists are divided as to whether the campaign is to be one with "anti saloon" as the slogan or the advocacy of a hard and fast prohibition that would make anything containing liquor a contraband, as placing beer and wine on a par with opium.

In this connection those who would like to adhere to the Woolley banner with the idea of holding out against anything approaching absolute prohibition have apparently overlooked the wording of the resolution that provides for the plebiscite on July 26th. This resolution presents the question to the voters in the following language:

"Shall the Legislature to be elected in November 1910, be requested to pass at its first regular session a law prohibiting the manufacture or sale within the Territory of intoxicating, spirituous, vinous or malt liquors except for medicinal and scientific purposes."

The advocates of absolute prohibition, among whom is Circuit Judge Whitney, declares that under an enactment in accordance with the terms of the resolution, it would be impossible for an agent to take orders for liquors here and then ship the goods from the coast, it being claimed that the law would contemplate such a transaction as a sale consummated within the Territory of Hawaii.

The attempt to make the term "anti saloon" take the place of prohibition in the approaching campaign is interpreted as one of Woolley's happy thoughts to mislead the voters into a belief that they would be simply advocating the restriction of the saloon instead of giving their endorsement to a hard and fast prohibitory law for the Territory as a whole.

FOUND GUILTY

After being out but a few minutes this afternoon the Federal jury returned a verdict of guilty against Harry L. White charged with retailing liquor without paying the special tax necessary to conduct such a business.

White was charged with taking two cases of O. P. S. whiskey and two cases of Cream Rye whiskey in an automobile to the Leliehua reservation and retailing it to soldiers on January 10. It was shown in the testimony that he paid $15 for the two cases of O. P. S. and sold it at $1.50 a bottle, and that the Cream Rye cost him $25 and he sold it at $2 a bottle.

Officers are through with the crowd of immigrants.

Some seventy Filipinos who also arrived by the Mongolia have been released from quarantine and as they hail from territory over which flies the American flag, they were at liberty to go where they wished.

The Filipinos made for the Planters' recruiting shed and will be sent to the sugar estates by the earliest available transportation.

Railroad Bill Is Passed

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 10.—The Administration railroad bill passed the House of Representatives today by a vote of two hundred to one hundred and twenty-six. Those voting for the bill included all the Republican members of the House and fourteen Democrats.

The measure did not, however, escape amendment. The provision for a court of commerce, over which a bitter controversy arose in the Senate, was retained, but the House defeated the traffic agreement clause that granted permission for railroad corporations to purchase stock in the corporations controlling non-competing roads.

HILLO RAILWAY IS PRESENT ENIGMA

Buying Orders, Tips And Rumors Are Flying About Town

Hilo Railway common stock is the leader in the flurry that is occupying the minds of stock buyers just at present.

There are "straight tips" and deep "confidential" rumors going the rounds regarding this stock, but those in authority will give out nothing for the public in regard to anything that may be on hand.

The Hilo railway was built on the money from bonds, and it is claimed that a new extension will be financed in a short time, and this will of necessity call for an increase in the capital stock, as under the laws of the Territory, railways may issue bonds up to the amount of their capital stock. Consequently, when more bonds are to be floated, more stock is voted.

Some of the brokers state that there has been a steady movement among the circle of brokers, having the Hilo Railway stock for sale to force the price up. When offers have come into the market, the desired stock has been available at just an eighth or a quarter more.
